

Kali Andrews, buyer and fit specialist

Kali Andrews serves as lead buyer and fit specialist at Petticoat Fair. In her role as buyer, Kali's responsibilities include purchasing all of the store's products, managing inventory, analyzing customer buying patterns and predicting future trends, maintaining relationships with top national and international lingerie manufacturers, and researching, evaluating, and assembling new collections each season.

Kali earned her associate's degree in interior design from the Fashion Institute of Design and Merchandising in Los Angeles. She joined her father, Petticoat Fair owner Kirk Andrews, in the family business in 2013.

A true fashionista, Kali's love and knowledge of the fashion industry runs deep. Her favorite part of her job is helping women find beautiful new products they love, but might never find on their own. When she's not working, Kali enjoys Yoga and Pilates, shopping, riding her horse Dollar and tending to the animals at the Andrews' family ranch in West Texas, jet-setting around the globe, and lounging around in pajamas with her cats Simon and Duchess.
